TO ALL CUSTOMERS

Object: regulations CE n. 1907/2006

European Regulation for Registration, Evaluation, and Authorisation of Chemicals

Dear Customer,

Tecnotubi S.p.A. provides products that, in accordance with the regulation REACH and with the explanatory documents developed by the ECHA and the major industry associations, are considered items, and the substances contained therein are not intentionally released under normal and reasonable conditions of use.

The company is a downstream user of the substances contained in the steel coils that are used as raw materials in its production process. According to the current level of knowledge, the substances contained in the steels that we process are not among those indicated in the art. 57 of the Regulation in question. Therefore, to date, we do not require authorisation for the constituents of steel, and it is not necessary to provide any additional information, since the art. 33 is not applicable to the products we provide.
